Between the States: Photographs of the American Civil War from the George Eastman House Collection

After receiving an enthusiastic reception at George Eastman House, we are proud to offer a version of Between the States: Photographs of the American Civil War, as a traveling exhibition. Commemorating the 150th anniversary of "Mr. Lincoln's War," Between the States presents a selection of facsimile photographs of historic Civil War sites and circumstances by photographers including George Barnard, Mathew Brady, and Alexander Gardner.

At the sesquicentennial of these events, the stillness of what remains in these photographed scenes echoes on in American minds. Destruction, struggle, and loneliness resonate in the haunting empty scenes, but something more is seen in the faces that do appear; a sense of patriotism for a chosen side, an impression of valor in a young face, a feeling of dignity in the face of death.

Mounted as a traditional exhibition, Between the States is divided into sections that address points of interest from photographic history and civil war events. These sections include Gardner's Sketchbook, Brady's Album Gallery, Civil War Personalities, Portraits of Soldiers, The CSS Alabama, and The Lincoln Conspiracy. Due to the rarity and condition of many of these objects, this exhibition is comprised of facsimile reproductions matching the size and color of the originals.
